WINTER STORM CALLS FOR MAKE UP DAYS OF SCHOOL

Written by: Danielle Grooms

With last week's snow and ice storm and many homes not having electric, many schools are adding on days because they ran out of calamity days. "Friday, 73,000 AEP customers remained without power, 398 in Highland County. Nearly 150,000 customers had lost power from the storm..." (Times Gazette). "South Central Power had 851 Highland County residents still without power Friday..." (Times Gazette). "Hillsboro, Lynchburg and Bright Local Schools had used seven calamity days as of Friday while Greenfield and Fairfield schools had only used five days." (Times Gazette).

This week, we had another storm that dumped "as much as 8 inches of snow in some areas of southwest Ohio." (Times Gazette).

We have now used 8 calamity days and Mrs. Wright is making a decision on how we will make up those days.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Written by: Emily Tolliver

This week's senior spotlight is on Mr. Marshall Reece Banks. Marshall was born to his parents, Joseph and Rene Banks, on April 4, 1990. Marshall's brother Garrison, who is 7, looks up to him in all aspects. Some of his favorites include the color blue, history and psychology. His favorite teacher is Mr. Veidt. If Marshall could go anywhere he would go to the highest point in the world. When asked what super hero he would be, Marshall replied, "Spiderman because he can shoot webs out of his hands and swing from buildings." When he is not playing baseball he can be found hanging out with friends and Jackie. In his future he plans to go to college and play baseball.

More Parents Face a Child Care Crisis

Written By: Megan Young

Many families throughout the United States are facing the economic down turn, and being able to pay for their kids to have baby sitters. Parents are dealing with being laid off, and having their hours cut back, pressuring them to only afford part-time child care, or relying on family members to watch their children. Relying on family doesn't always work because of older people like the Taggs family of Atlanta. Joy and Dexter Taggs have been having financial problems, preventing them being able to pay for full-time child care. They've resorted to taking Little Dexter to Joy's great-grandmother part of the week so they could save money, but great-grandmother confessed she was tired of raising children.
