PRE-SCHOOL HALLOWEEN PARTY

Written by: Danielle Grooms

On Wednesday, October 29th Amber Frazer, Monica Palmer, and Heather Thompson went to Bright Elementary to decorate pumpkins with preschoolers. On Thursday, October 30, Danielle Grooms and Faith Hawkins also went to Bright to decorate pumpkins. They were invited to stay and help with their Halloween party.

When they arrived at the elementary, the preschoolers were having nap time, so they decided not to wake them up until it was time.

After awhile, parents started arriving and they set up all the food. When the preschoolers walked in, they were so excited. They all looked so cute in their costumes. They were then seated and they watched a mini video of themselves trick-or-treating through the school. They loved it. After that, they decorated their pumpkins. They turned out really well.

They had their Halloween party right after that and they all ate pizza, cookies, cup cakes, fruit, and Go-Gurt while sipping on their Capri Suns. The girls said they had a great time and that the preschoolers were fun to be with.

SENIOR SPOTLIGHT

Written by: Cassie Buzard

This week our senior spotlight is on Stephanie Suzanne Docter, born in Wilmington to parents Jeff and Melissa Docter. Steph has a younger brother, Zach, two dogs, Honey and Sugar, and a cat, Smokey. Stephanie's favorite subjects are math and music, and her favorite teachers have been Mr. Hughes and Mr. Wessner. Stephanie is always busy with activities at school, including cheerleading, band, choir, NHS, and journalism. She is also senior class treasurer. Stephanie is a receptionist at SunQuest Hair Designs in Sardinia, and also she helps with the preschool at her church. Some of her favorite things are ice cream, roller coasters, and the UNC Tar Heels basketball team. Stephanie's plans after high school are to attend Cedarville University and major in Early Childhood Education.

OPERATION CHRISTMAS

Written by: Stephanie Docter

The National Honor Society is working with Operation Christmas Child to help children in poverty have a happier Christmas. Each NHS member is filling a box for a child full of items including hygiene products, small toys, school supplies, and hard candy. They are also encouraging others to donate items or money for shipment. See any NHS member if you would like to help out!!
