Ms. Hahn Recognized by VFW

Written by: Bailey Walker

On Wednesday, April 7th, one of Whiteoak's teachers was recognized for her outstanding work, by the VFW in Hillsboro. Ms. Hahn was awarded a clock made particularly for her, with her name engraved on it. The VFW does not give this award annually, and there are no guidelines or specific qualifications. Their reason was simply that Ms. Hahn was an excellent teacher, and her work with the soldiers needed to be recognized. Her efforts were put into the spotlight when Kaitlyn Fannin, a Whiteoak senior, wrote an essay about Ms. Hahn, and her heroic, everyday tasks. Representatives from the Veterans of Foreign Wars told Ms. Hahn that they all had heard of her work, even before Kaitlyn's essay. Kaitlyn received her first place award alongside Ms. Hahn last Wednesday.
